Hello,

It seems the time is comming close to the settlement date.

I would like to protest that Microsoft is getting away without any major changes. They should be broken up, they have hindered the free market too long with their monopoly.

Having one company control 99% of the software and Operating systems market is just not fair on other companys. MS embrace new technology and then modify it so it is incompatible with other companys competing product.

Using their Monopaly of the Desktop they are now forcing their way into other areas such as "online media players" and "online chat clients". Please do the right thing and split MS up. Other companys have been hindered for too long.

Yours sincerely

Jonathan Grant
